I understand a little when people speak slowly.	I can understand a limited amount in English. I can explain my opinions and talk about the past, present and future.	I can understand most things if simple language is used. I can express myself and talk about many topics but not in depth.	I can understand a wider range of language. I can explain in more detail my opinions and speak with greater fluency.	I can understand nuance as well as factual information. I can adapt my language to be appropriate to the situation.
