Mandarin Courses Program

Day Time Courses

If you want to learn the Chinese language systematically and be able to speak fluently, the Day-time intensive Mandarin courses are your best choice. The immersion study program creates a native language environment for you. Moreover, each of our staff would be happy to continue language training after class. This helps you consolidate and review what you have learned in the class. You will improve your language skills speedily in this way.

Part-time Course

Part-time Course is a perfect choice for people who have a very busy life or hectic work schedule. The class schedule could be arranged to fit around your agenda. It ensures you learn the Chinese you need for your active life in China. Compared with the Intensive Courses, the class time element of the Part Time Course is less. So we will pay much more attention to daily oral speaking and common words, sentence structures for working and life.

Door to Door Tutoring

Door to Door Tutoring is specially designed for the students who are not able to travel to our classrooms. For some house wives or husbands who have to stay at home to take care of kids but want to use spare hours for learning some Chinese, this is also a good option. Students could enjoy the training while remaining at home. We will charge an appropriate transport fee based on the location.

Test Preparation Courses

We offer the HSK (han yu shui ping kao shi), BCT (Business Chinese Test) and YCT (Young Learners Chinese Test) Test Preparation Courses. Students could choose the proper courses according to their own demands and mandarin levels. We will prepare the courses based on the official examination outline. Some real test questions over the years will be used during our class in order to help students know more about the real test and discover their own disadvantages. In addition, we prepare not only the test, but also a lot of corresponding conversational Mandarin. We believe that students succeed in passing the exam while they make progresses in language abilities which are most important for learning Mandarin.

Students' voices from YourMandarin

This is the 5th time I've come to study at Your Mandarin and I love it more and more. The staff is great and the teachers are always professional and helpful. This is the 3rd time I've studied with Jojo and she is fantastic—always very well prepared and ready with jokes too! I'm already planning on coming back next year, if it's OK with you all.

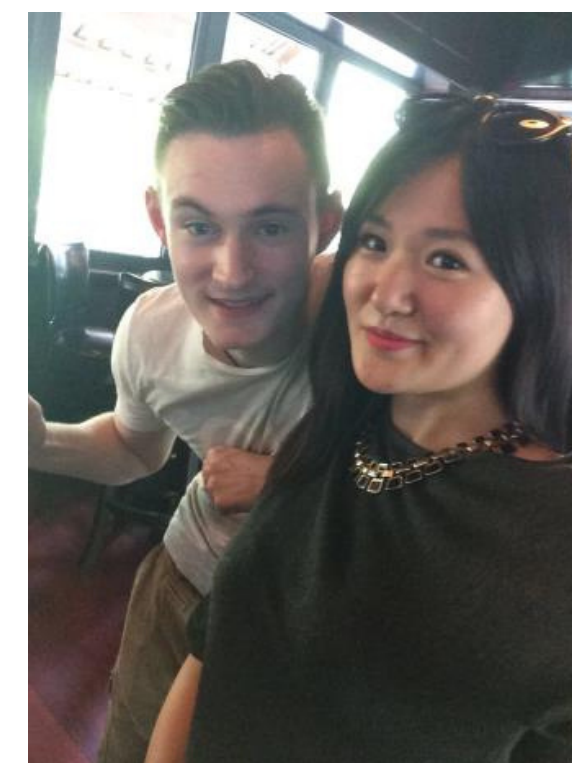

My yearlong Chinese language lessons at YourMandarin were brilliant. The study of Hanyu gave me a window into the Chinese culture that was closed to me. I studied at YourMandarin four days a week for an hour and one half each day. I prepared for class one half to one full hour per day. My lessons, after an initial introductory period, consisted of review, new grammar, then cultural information, for example, the history of Chinese dress. I am so grateful to my Hanyu teachers at YourMandarin for their professionalism and attention to my needs. I especially enjoyed being introduced to Chinese calligraphy which I greatly admire. Periodically, we met on a Sunday for coffee, culture and conversation. I enjoyed these events immensely. I wholeheartedly recommend YourMandarin.

Roz

As a foreigner looking to build a career in China, I have always believed it is absolutely essential to communicate and work using Chinese. In such a 'guan-xi' driven society, speaking the native language gives you an edge no matter what your situation. During my time at YourMandarin I've not only received quality, well-tailored classes, but also been able to actively get involved in the Chinese community through their regular culture events. The friendly and considerate staff also create a perfect language environment within the school to supplement the knowledge gained from regular one on one class hours. I have also benefited from a number of YourMandarin's pastoral services including help renting accommodation and online shopping. This level of commitment, coupled with teacher quality, is why I have always studied at YourMandarin.
